

InsWeb and eHealthinsurance.com settle marketing lawsuit

InsuranceTimes, April 1, 2003, Vol. XXIII, No. 7 ©Copyright M&S Communciations, Inc., publisher of InsuranceTimes

InsWeb Corp has reached a settlement in its litigation with eHealthInsurance.com. The litigation stemmed from eHealthInsurance's decision in February 2001 to terminate an agreement concerning the marketing of health insurance to consumers originating at InsWeb online marketplace. Although specific terms of the settlement agreement are confidential, eHealthInsurance has agreed to pay $800,000 for the services performed by InsWeb prior to the termination of the marketing agreement. In addition, the parties have released all claims against each other relating to the marketing agreement. □